Former Blairmore Citizen Meets Accidental Death

Word comes from Portland, Oregon, that Charles E. Beebe, aged seventy years, sustained injuries which resulted in his death fifteen minutes later.

The elderly man was crossing the street intersection between Burlington and Ivanhoe Streets, St. John's, keeping a close lookout for a north-bound auto, when he stepped directly in front of the Union Fuel Company's truck coming from the opposite direction. The heavy delivery car was travelling at a low rate of speed and the chauffeur brought the machine to a stop within a few feet, however, not before the front wheels had crushed Mr. Beebe's legs. The injured man was taken to St. John's station and died shortly afterward from what is thought to have been shock. In the opinion of the coroner, the accident was purely unavoidable and no inquest was held. The body was removed to the morgue for an autopsy.

Mr. Beebe was at one time a resident of Blairmore, residing in the building now occupied by Luigi Denarini on Victoria Street east, between Ninth and Tenth Avenues. Since leaving Blairmore several years ago, he has been a resident of Hood River, and moved to Portland about three months ago.

He is survived by a widow, five daughters and one son, namely: Mrs. Charles E. Beebe, St. John's, Portland, Oregon, formerly of Blairmore; Mrs. J. F. Miller, Calgary, formerly of Frank; Mrs. D. E. Booth, of Vancouver; Mrs. Samuel Meichen, of Chehalis, Washington; Mrs. A. J. Babb, of St. John's, Portland, formerly of Hood River; Miss Jean Beebe, of St. John's, Portland; and Charles M. Beebe, of Cereal, Alberta; all of which deeply mourn the loss of husband and father.

Council Grants Chautauqua Free License

The regular meeting of the town council last night was attended by Mayor Beebe, Councillors Lagace, Dutil and McVey, and Secretary-Treasurer Wright.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved, and several communications of minor importance were received.

The following accounts were passed for payment: Petty cash $24.25, P. Thibadeau $15.00, W. A. Beebe (July rent) $20.00, W. A. Beebe (for poles and cross-arms) $25.00, Blairmore Hardware Company $24.30, Alberta Government Telephones $3.50, F. Wright (July salary) $85.00, J. M. Carter (July salary) $100.00—Total $297.05.

Secretary Wright reported that the application for a license to effect some time in August. Application was tabled until next meeting.

Application of The Pass Chautauqua Committee for rebate of license was considered and the request granted.

Councillor Dutil was elected deputy-mayor for the three months—July, August and September.

Private Leonard Adlam Killed in Action

Word has been received stating that Private Leonard Adlam, brother of Mrs. J. A. McDonald, was killed in action on July 21st. Private Adlam was about thirty-four years of age and single. He was a former resident of the Lundbreck district.

Wedding Bells

A pretty wedding ceremony took place at the home of Mrs. Mark Druum, Ilsonwood, Frank, on Wednesday evening, when Miss Mary Landot, of Frank, became the wife of Mr. A. Watson, of Belk v.e. Rev. W. T. Young performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends, including Mrs. J. M. Carter, of Blairmore; Mrs. C. J. Tompkins, of Frank; and Mr. F. Utley, of Bellevue. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding luncheon was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Watson left by auto for Bellevue, where they will make their home.

Sandy's Proviso

An old Scotchman was acting as guide to an American tourist who was travelling through Scotland. Sandy found great difficulty in pleasing his employer, for no matter what point of interest he took him to see, it was nothing in comparison to what the American had already seen in the United States.

Finally, Sandy took him to see Loch Kathrine that supplies the city of Glasgow with the finest drinking water in the world.

"He's a drink o' that, mon, ye ha'ena water like that in New York."

The American drank long, and when he had finished he turned to the old Scotchman and said, "Say, Sandy, that's the finest water I've ever tasted. If we had this lake in New York we would make a fortune out of it."

"Weel, sir," said Sandy, "ye can say that."

"Impossible," said the American. "How in the world could I take a lake to New York?"

"Weel," said Sandy, "ye could lay a two-inch pipe free here to New York and if ye can suck as well as ye can blow, ye'll ha'e it there in no time."

Delegate Returns From American Convention

Mr. B. Bertarione, of Lodge No. 566, of the American Federation of Human Rights, has returned from the Convention held in Larkspur, Colorado, from July 7 to July 15. He is much pleased to have been able to meet many of the delegates and visit the fine property which the Order has recently purchased for a Home and permanent Headquarters. Mr. Bertarione was the delegate elected from Bellevue Lodge, which has 29 members. The American Federation of Human Rights is the only Masonic Order which admits men and women on equal terms. It works for Universal Brotherhood and the moral and mental uplifting of the human race, without distinction of creed, class, sex or nation. In the Convention were delegates from about 77 Blue Lodges, besides a number of higher bodies, which confer the higher degrees.

Among the members of the Order the majority are Italians, but there are also a large number of English-speaking lodges, some which work in French, and there is one in Havana, Cuba. At the Convention there were some twenty ladies from various cities of the United States. Canada has five lodges in the Order: Vancouver, Ottawa, Bellevue, one in Cumberland, B.C.

The Convention elected officers for a period of five years and finished some very important work. The delegates gave unanimous support to the government prosecution of the War, as the surest way to secure a real peace. About 70 members of the Co-Masonic Order are now in the service of the army or navy. A large Service Flag, with stars in the form of the well-known Masonic emblem of the square and compasses, was officially dedicated during the Convention.

General Story Of Chautauqua Program

Announcement of the program for the coming Chautauqua indicates clearly that patriotism is to be the keynote of the week. Prominent lectures are coming with messages of vital interest on the war problems of the day, wholesome entertainment is to be provided to relieve the tension of mind natural in war times and splendid music that will thrill every heart will be found on all programs.

The week will open in a true patriotic manner. The Warwick Quartet will give two splendid programs on the first day. This company is one of the standard musical organizations of the Chautauqua platform and their concert will feature stirring patriotic music.

The music of the second day will be given by the Gullotta Trio, under the leadership of Vincenzo Gullotta, the noted Italian violinist. The other two members of the company are Marita Cook, soprano, and Ruth Greig-Gullotta, pianist and accompanist. The third day brings the Hawaiian Concert. Singers, a musical company which has achieved prominence by their splendid singing of old English nation songs. These are staged in the handsome costume of the era in which the songs were written.

The musical part of the program reaches its climax on the fourth day in the coming of the Chicago Ladies Orchestra, with Ethel Lee Buxton, American soprano, as soloist. This splendid organization has been one of the outstanding successes on Eastern circuits for several years and is well and favorably known in the concert world. They will give a short concert in the afternoon and a full program at night.

On the fifth day the Glenn Wells Entertainers come with two thoroughly enjoyable programs. The last day brings the Kafir Boys Choir, undoubtedly the most unique and unusual musical attraction on the platform. These little natives of South Africa have been trained and entertain in a wonderful manner by J. H. Balmer, F.R.G.S., explorer, traveler and lecturer. Miss Elsie Clarke of Rhodesia, South Africa, is accompanist.

The lecture staff of the week is a notable one, including several lecturers speaking purely on war issues and others on topics of general interest. J. C. Herberman, who lectures on the fifth night, is coming to Chautauqua from the International Conference of Lecturers and is one of the speakers accredited by the U.S. government to present war issues.

Dr. Salem G. Bland of Winnipeg was Special Dominion Delegate to the International Conference in Washington. His splendid lecture on the second afternoon, "Canada at the Crossroads," has a strong patriotic appeal and should be heard by every Canadian.

Perhaps the lecture of greatest interest to be given during the week will be on the second night when Sgt. G. Gibbons, the Third Canadian Infantry, tells his thrilling story of experiences "over there." Sgt. Gibbons was a member of the 1st Canadian Contingent, wounded at Ypres, captured by the Hun and spent seven months in German prison camps. Since returning he has recruited over 1200 men in Ontario. Last fall his services were required by United States Secretary of Treasury Medford and Sgt. Gibbons was loaned to Uncle Sam. In the United States he sold over $5,600 in Liberty Bonds through his stirring platform speeches.

Another lecture during the week of particular patriotic interest will be "The War and the Anglo-Japanese Alliance" by Y. Minakuchi, the noted Japanese scholar and student of international affairs.

Other lectures of prominence will be, "Playing the Game," by Capt. Wood Briggs of the Texas National Guard; "New Zealand, the South Sea Islands," by Leila Blomfield of New Zealand, and a new lecture on the Orient by the Young Athenian, Julius Caesar Nappie, who created such a profound impression on audiences last year.

A splendid entertainment feature of the program this year will be the appearance of Annie Thorne Devault on the last afternoon. She will give an interpretation of "Folly of the Circus," one of the most popular plays of the past decade.

The Junior Chautauqua work has been given added prominence this season. All the Junior Supervisors, or Story Ladies, have been specially trained for the summer's work at the Columbia College of Expression. Under the direction of Junior Supervisor, special feature lectures will be given by the "kiddies" on the fifth night known as the Mother Goose Festival.

Be Careful of Camp Fires

Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve,
Office of Crown's Nest Forest,
Fischer-Cook, Alta., July 22, 1918.
Blairmore, Alberta.

Sir:—In the interest of conservation and increased production, I would be very much obliged if you will allow me space in your paper, to call the attention of campers and fishermen who anticipate camping trips into the mountains, to the very serious danger of forest fires during the present season.

If the present dry, warm weather continues, we will undoubtedly have within the next few weeks a situation unequalled during our experience in protecting the forests from fire. In addition to the necessity of preserving existing and prospective stands of merchantable timber and forest cover which is a primary factor in regulation of stream flow on the prairies, we have this season in the mountains many thousands of head of cattle, horses and sheep, utilizing during the summer months the mountain range wherever available. Should fires occur therefore, there is not only the danger of stock being destroyed but what is almost as important, the range which is at present sustaining the stock would be destroyed, necessitating their immediate removal back to the prairies. It will readily be seen therefore that the immediate results of forest fires would be nothing short of disastrous.

All prospective campers are most urgently requested to co-operate with us in protecting the forest from fire. A great many people do not realize how easily a fire may get started. The following fundamental rules should, always be observed:

1. Select the barest and most open spot available for your campfires, and clear it as far as practicable of all combustible material.
2. Never leave camp even for a few minutes without putting out your campfire completely.
3. Never drop lighted matches or tobacco in the woods.

4. Should fire occur, do your utmost to put it out and do not delay to notify the nearest forest ranger or rancher.

Thanking you for publishing this letter, I remain

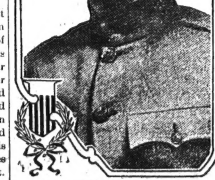

Your obedient servant,
R. M. BROWN,
Forest Supervisor,
Crown's Nest Forest Reserve.

PATRIOTIC LECTURE ON OPENING NIGHT

Capt. Wood Briggs of Texas National Guard Comes to Chautauqua.

The government has recognized the Chautauqua platform as one of the chief avenues of reaching the American people with needed information during war times. Wood Briggs, well-known lecturer, Captain of the Texas National Guard, is one of the several government-accredited lecturers sent out by Washington. Until his regiment is ordered abroad he is to devote his remarkable talent and energy in helping "mobilize the minds" of the people.

Into his lecture, "Playing the Game," is woven a stirring patriotic appeal. Capt. Briggs has the ability to enthuse and stir his audiences to action. His appearance on the first night of Chautauqua in a patriotic lecture sounds the keynote of the week.

WOOD BRIGGS

A Lethbridge man, who on Sunday last was cruising in his auto towards The Gap at North Fork, noticed a couple of young ladies fishing at a pool. After watching them a while and noticing expressions of impatience, he shouted to them thus: "Come unto me and I will make you fishers of men."

By a final vote of 337 to 30, the household representatives has decreed a dry Hawaii for the period of the war and such time thereafter as the people of the islands have failed to take the affirmative action for restoration of the booze traffic.

Chautauqua Audiences to Hear Ladies' Symphony Orchestra

Splendid Chicago Musical Organization Present Two Programs on Fourth Day

Few musical companies have achieved a more conspicuous record of successes than the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. These enthusiastic young ladies from Chicago have been presenting orchestral music for several years in such an artistic manner as to win the widest approval of audiences everywhere.

The ensemble consists of clarinet, flute, horn, five stringed instruments, piano and traps. A reed organ of unique construction is carried by the company, which, with the other orchestration, gives the reed and wind effects of a very large orchestra. The two programs on the fourth day are of infinite variety and built to please every type of music lover, featuring violin and cello solos, instrumental duets, quartets, readings, soprano solos and many ensemble numbers. There is plenty of stirring patriotic music, light music, and just real music in the programs of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra—when they sing their closing piece there's a glad feeling in your heart for the happiness of life and of living they have left with you.

Local and General

Miss Violet Warner is visiting with friends at Lethbridge.

Dr. Olivier, of Coleman, is taking in the Lethbridge Stampede.

The dance given in the opera house on Tuesday night was well attended.

Mrs. Jackson, of Calgary, accompanied her husband to Blairmore this week and spent a few days at the Cosmopolitan.

Capt. A. H. Baker, of the Frank Military Hospital, left for Lethbridge Tuesday afternoon, where he will visit friends and incidentally attend the Stampede.

G. A. Passmore and family leave this week for a vacation, to be spent along the upper waters of one of British Columbia's favorite fishing streams. They will be away about six weeks, during which time Mr. Smith, relieving agent, will take his position at the local depot. Mrs. Smith and child are here with Mr. Smith.

At a mass meeting of nearly two thousand women in Vancouver, the pledge was made to conform exactly to the requirements of the Canada Food Board and to apply the restaurant regulations in their own homes. Furthermore it was "especially resolved to discontinue any social functions which promote the consumption of wheat products, pork, sugar and fats."

Pass Oddfellows have received an invitation to attend a meeting of Mount Fernie Lodge on Wednesday night next, when the lodge honor roll will be unveiled, and several degrees will be conferred. We understand that quite a number of the members of Coleman, Bellevue and Blairmore lodges will take in the trip, which will be made by autos, the parties leaving for Fernie about 3 p.m.

A little excitement was caused at Frank on Tuesday of this week, when, without the slightest provocation, one Lizzie hit another, tearing away considerable of the head-dress of the victim. The attacking force sustained about an equal amount of damage and now lies in a Blairmore hospital with the skirt badly bent and shoes demolished. Henry Ford's accessories department reaped the benefit of the combat, while Happy Pete, of the F. M. Thompson Co.'s grocery department, is the chief mourner.

A Frenchman was waiting on a railway station somewhere in Ireland, when a couple of natives sat down beside him.

"Sire," said the first, "and it's down to Kilmary I've been, and I'm on my way back to Kilpatrick."

"Ye don't say," replied the other.

"It's meself that's just been down to Kilkenny, and I'm going on now to Kilmore."

The Frenchman shuddered.

"What assassins!" he murmured. "Would that I were safely back in France!"

"These eggs are dreadfully small," she criticised.

"I know it," he answered. "But that's the kind the farmer brings me. They are just fresh from the country this morning."

"Yes," said the bride, "and that's the trouble with those farmers. They are so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them off the nest too soon!"

Insects have spoiled a bridge at Aberdeen, Wash. The damage has been done in three years by termites and limoria. Heavy traffic over the bridge has had to be suspended for a time. The termites, which enter a pile through a hole hardly larger than that made by a pin, proceeds to bore his way through the centre of the stick in holes frequently nearly half an inch in diameter. While the termites work inside the piling, the limoria works entirely on the outside, eating away the softer wood. In appearance it resembles the sand flea very much.

A Coleman cyclist summoned a man to appear before the court on Saturday afternoon last on the charge of assault, claiming that the defendant did hit him without provocation. Mr. Gillis appeared for the defendant and on the hearing, of evidence from both sides, his honor dismissed the case. Following the above case, which was the result of the cyclist being too hogish over the road and thus colliding with a pedestrian, the man accused of assault in the former case entered a charge against his complainant for having made use of too much of the highway and running so close to a man as to knock the skin off his knuckles and using language that was altogether uncalled for. The cyclist was found guilty and assessed in the sum of $5.00 and costs. This should act as a caution to others who are in the habit of thinking that once they are on a vehicle they can disregard the rights of pedestrians.

Julius Caesar Nayphe Returns

Chautauqua Audiences to Hear New Lecture
From Well-Known Athenian

The brilliant young Athenian, Julius Caesar Nayphe, who made such a profound impression on Chautauqua audiences last year, is returning this summer in a new lecture. His unusual success last year brought repeated requests for his return from practically every town on the circuit.

The evening paper of Trinidad, Colorado, says of him: "His lecture yesterday was a novelty—it was almost a dream. In fact one might have thought so had it not been for his endless string of witticisms, his extraordinarily funny descriptions, and with it all his serious minded expressions of the beautiful and the true."

Mrs. A. Hallworth and Mrs. W. H. Chappell returned from Medicine Hat on Monday last.

Miss F. Hallworth, who spent some time with friends at Medicine Hat, returned home on Wednesday.

Mrs. G. Knowles and two children are visiting their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wardman, at Barnis, while Mr. Knowles is away fishing for a few days.

William Fisher, who had been in poor health for some time past, passed away at his home here on Sunday afternoon. The remains were laid to rest in the new Bellevue cemetery on Tuesday. Mr. Fisher leaves a large family to mourn their loss, two sons, William and Ernest, in France; and five sons, James, Albert, Edward, Austin and Elias, at home; and one daughter, Minnie. The people of Bellevue extend their sincere sympathy to Mrs. Fisher and family in their hour of bereavement.

In the course of a lecture on the Zebrugge operations, Naval Paymaster Collingwood Huggan narrated a story illustrative of German cruelty and callousness. He said a patrol boat discovered a derelict German submarine from which it rescued the crew. The commander was assured by the German captain that there were no others aboard, and he was about to blow up the boat and sink her, when he heard tapings from the inside. A search revealed four British seamen tied up as prisoners. "The Germans," the paymaster added, "were going to allow those poor fellows to be hurled into eternity after their own lives had been saved."

Our assistant station agent, named Mack, was expounding on the merits of shaving cream bought from the Blairmore drug store as against those of a Williams' shaving stick.

"Let's try it, Mack," said his friend.

"Sure, it's in my hold-all. Go to it," responded Mack. So the other guy went to it.

"Well, what do you think of it?" asked Mack a little later.

"Not much. Why I had to use the whole tube, and then couldn't get a decent lather," said the other lad, disgustedly, as he handed the tube back. "I don't see anything to laugh at."

"You don't eh? Why, you rummy, you took the wrong tube. You've used all my tooth paste!"

A country editor in Missouri recently retired with a comfortable fortune of $50,000. His successor explains that the money was acquired by industry, economy, conscientious effort to give full value indomitable perseverance and the death of an uncle who left the editor $49,999.50.

That long low, rakish roar that echoed up and down the Hudson was intermittent purring of a box painter who discovers that the me he had sent to brighten up all the outside corners of St. Matthew's German Lutheran church, in Main street, Hastings, N.Y., had painted Grace Episcopal church instead. Their excuse that all churches look pretty much alike don't mollify the boss to any great extent, and at a late hour he was still referring in glowing language to the indestructibility of their heads. Many residents of the town laughed right out loud when they heard of the mistake, the only exception being the members of St. Matthew's congregation, who had expected a point with pride to their edifice. Naturally the members of Grace Episcopal are overjoyed at having their church all painted up without being called upon for an assessment. The church was built by Admiral Farragut with prize money given to him by the Government during the Civil War. The on thing for the boss painter to do make for the church a present of new dress. Then he will be able to say he gave until it hurt.
